Some thoughts on today's Gospel....

Jesus reminds us many times that, if we have faith, nothing is impossible. Martha's faith is indomitable. Knowing that the tomb contains the decomposing body of her beloved brother, she can still summon up the words, "even now I know that God will give you whatever you ask of him". Do we truly believe that anything is possible for one who believes?

Observations

Even if we don't know Latin, usually we are familiar with the term "homo sapiens" — that evolutionary stage of our species, from which we are all descended. Sapiens points to knowing or understanding.
Not everyone is happy with the term and some cultural commentators propose a different one — "homo narrans" or story-telling "man" — as an alternative. The scripture readings in Lent have given us a mighty series of stories, starting on the first Sunday of Lent with Adam and Eve and ending today with Mary, Martha and Lazarus.
Part of the Adam and Eve mythology is the discovery of mortality — not just death but awareness of death. The Lazarus story is a moving portrait of hope: Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.

Thought for the day

The historical Jesus was guarded in declaring his identity but by the time the Fourth Gospel was written, Christians had arrived at a rich understanding of the mystery of Jesus, the Son of God. John's Gospel puts before the believer a grand assemblage of 7 I AM sentences, rooted in the name of God in Exodus 3:14, I AM WHO I AM. I am the bread of life. (John 6:35, 48, 51); I am the light of the world (John 8:12; 9:5); I am the gate for the sheep (John 10:7, 9); I am the good shepherd (John 10:11, 14); I am the resurrection and the life (John 11:25); I am the way, and the truth, and the life (John 14:6); I am the true vine (John 15:1, 5).
We are reminded that we believe first of all in a person, not in a philosophy. Anyone one of these images would take us deeply into our encounter with the Risen Lord, none more so than "I am the resurrection and the life."

Prayer

Jesus, present to us always, you wept at the tomb of your friend Lazarus. As we face the mystery of death, our own and that of those we love, help us to place our trust in you, the resurrection and the life. Amen.

Reflections

1. Martha and Mary are portrayed as people of faith but Jesus led them to an even deeper faith. Who were the people who led you to a deeper faith in Jesus? Remember them and give thanks.
2. Martha and Mary were struggling to come to terms with their bereavement. What has helped you in similar situations?
3. The concern of Jesus is palpable and touching. Recall those who matter to you and to whom you matter. Such love mediates God's love, which surpasses human love with the gift of new life and Easter joy.
4. One can imagine Lazarus as a symbol of people and groups that are written off as dead (sometimes by themselves), and yet through faith come back to life again. Have you had the experience of being revived by faith? Has faith helped to free you from what held you in bondage, or was destructive of your life?

PRAYER

*Merciful God, you showed your glory to our fallen race by sending your Son to confound the powers of death.
Call us forth from sin's dark tomb: break the bonds which hold us, that we may believe and proclaim Christ the cause of our freedom and the source of life, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, for ever and ever. Amen.*
